

Speaker 1:

I think what sets Anil apart is that he's really good with these types of small business issues and self-employed people. Regardless of where you live in the country, he's familiar with all the different regulations.

Anil Melwani:

Back in 2008, I founded 212 Tax Accounting Services, definitely one of the best decisions of my life. I'm so proud of what I've built all these years later and I really love what I do. And I love working with new people, new businesses, new individuals, helping them resolve their tax and accounting issues, helping them decide if they should leave their job to start a business, should they move to another city or state. A lot of life decisions really come into play here.

Speaker 3:

It wasn't difficult to get started because Anil instructed me on things that seemed so foreign to me in the beginning. I feel like he's an extension of my company.

Anil Melwani:

A few months ago I met Harvey Tanton and Rob Grubman, and I think we just hit it off from the start. Within a couple months, we really decided that it would be a great fit for both of us, for Anil Melwani CPA and 212 Tax Accounting Services and our team to really join the Tanton Grubman team. We're really happy to be here and we're really excited to still continue what we do in terms of helping individuals and small businesses with their tax accounting issues but now, especially in this new world that we're in, dealing with all these issues with residency and sales tax and remote work and just the new Zoom world we're in and really helping people get through life and get through their business.

Anil Melwani:

The other reason why I'm really happy to be partners now with Tanton Grubman and especially Rob Grubman specifically, is that they are really into entertainment and lifestyle clients, they work with a lot of different artists and musicians and producers and TV news broadcasters, and a lot of people across the country in LA, in California. With our experience, working with a lot of people in nightlife and hospitality and a lot of different fashion models and promoters and DJs, I think we've put all that together and we're really the firm to go to when it comes to entertainment and lifestyle. We know how to deal with those certain tax and accounting issues and really help people work and expand their businesses and really make the right tax accounting and financial decisions throughout life and throughout their business. Can't wait to just jump into it in 2021.
